STATEMENT OF NEED

1. What needs does your program address, and why is it important to the Hamilton County population?

The Houston Museum of Decorative Arts' preservation project addresses critical needs related to accessibility, education, historic preservation, and community engagement for Hamilton County residents. HOUSTON MUSEUM OF DECORATIVE ARTS

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MAY 31, 2024

(See Accountant's Compilation Report)

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization and Nature of Activities

Houston Museum of Decorative Arts (the Museum) is a non-profit organization exempt from income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. The Museum conducts educational exhibits and activities at various public functions and schools and publishes informational materials to foster appreciation of antiques in Chattanooga, Tennessee. The Museum is supported through membership dues, admissions, gift shop sales, proceeds from special exhibits, sponsorships, and donations.

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has established the FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) as the single source of authoritative GAAP. Updates to the ASC are done through the issuance of Accounting Standards Updates (ASU).

Revenue Recognition

Contributions and grants are recognized as revenues when they are received or unconditionally pledged. The Museum reports gifts of cash and other assets as net assets with donor restrictions if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires or is satisfied, restricted net assets are reclassified as net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from donor restrictions.

The Museum has adopted ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, which creates a framework for recognizing revenue other than contributions and non-exchange grants. The Museum's services that are within the scope of ASC 606 are presented as sales and other revenue on the statement of activities and are recognized as revenue as the Museum satisfies its obligation to the customers. Sales are recognized as revenue when the transaction is complete.

Financial Statement Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The Museum is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets.

Net assets without restrictions: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and may be expended for any purpose in performing the primary objectives of the Museum. These net assets may be used at the discretion of the Museum's management and the board of directors.

Net assets with restrictions: Net assets subject to stipulations imposed by donors and grantors. Some donor restrictions are temporary in nature; those restrictions will be met by actions of the Museum or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature, whereby the donor has stipulated the funds be maintained in perpetuity.

Donor restricted contributions are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions. When a restriction expires, net assets are reclassified from net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions in the statement of activities.

Cash, Cash Equivalents, and Restricted Cash

The Museum considers cash on hand, in savings, checking, certificates of deposit, and other similar accounts to be cash. All highly liquid debt instruments with a maturity of three months of less when purchased are considered to be cash equivalents. As of May 31, 2024, the balance of the restricted cash was $573,956 and was restricted by the donors for the future building project.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost is determined using the specific identification basis.

Investments and Fair Value Measurements

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. US GAAP set out a fair value hierarchy. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below:

Level 1 - Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
Level 2 - Observable inputs other than prices included in Level 1, such as quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated with observable market data.
Level 3 - Unobservable inputs which reflect management's best estimate of what market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Consideration is given to the risk inherent in the valuation technique and the risk inherent in the inputs to the model.

Financial assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Investments with readily determinable fair values are reported at their fair values in the statements of financial position. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in net investment return.

Museum Collections

Museum collections include fine arts and antiques. The collections are made up of artifacts of historical significance and art objects that are held for educational, research, and curatorial purposes.

In conformity with accounting policies generally followed by art museums, the values of the Museum's collections have been excluded from the statement of financial position. Purchases of collection items and proceeds from the sale of collection items are reported on the statements of activities and changes in net assets. The collections are subject to a policy that requires proceeds from their sales to be used to acquire other items for collections.

Gifts of cash or other property restricted by donors for the purchase of items for the collection are classified as net assets with donor restrictions until acquisitions are made in accordance with the terms of the gifts.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Expenditures for major additions and improvements are capitalized, while minor replacements, maintenance, and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. When property and equipment are retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts, and any resulting gain or loss is included in the statement of revenues and expenses for the respective period. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the depreciable assets. The estimated useful life of office equipment is three to 10 years and 20 to 30 years for buildings and improvements.

Deferred Revenue

Advanced collections of fees and sponsorships are deferred and recognized over the periods to which the events relate.

Functional Expenses

Directly identifiable expenses are charged to program services and management and general expenses as incurred. Expenses related to more than one function are charged to program services and management and general expenses on the basis of periodic time and expense studies. Management and general expenses include those expenses that are not directly identifiable with any other specific function but provide for the overall support and direction of the Museum. The costs of providing the various programs and supporting services have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities.

Advertising and Publicity

Advertising and publicity costs are charged to expense when paid. The Museum's advertising and publicity costs totaled $10,079 for the year ended May 31, 2024.

Use of Estimates

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Tax Status

The Museum is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Museum's federal exempt Museum tax returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service, generally for three years after they are filed.

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization and Nature of Activities

Houston Museum of Decorative Arts (the Museum) is a non-profit organization exempt from income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. The Museum conducts educational exhibits and activities at various public functions and schools and publishes informational materials to foster appreciation of antiques in Chattanooga, Tennessee. The Museum is supported through membership dues, admissions, gift shop sales, proceeds from special exhibits, sponsorships, and donations.

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has established the FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) as the single source of authoritative GAAP. Updates to the ASC are done through the issuance of Accounting Standards Updates (ASU).

Revenue Recognition

Contributions and grants are recognized as revenues when they are received or unconditionally pledged. The Museum reports gifts of cash and other assets as net assets with donor restrictions if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires or is satisfied, restricted net assets are reclassified as net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from donor restrictions.

The Museum has adopted ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, which creates a framework for recognizing revenue other than contributions and non-exchange grants. The Museum's services that are within the scope of ASC 606 are presented as sales and other revenue on the statement of activities and are recognized as revenue as the Museum satisfies its obligation to the customers. Sales are recognized as revenue when the transaction is complete.

Financial Statement Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The Museum is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets.

> Net assets without restrictions: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and may be expended for any purpose in performing the primary objectives of the Museum. These net assets may be used at the discretion of the Museum's management and the board of directors.

Net assets with restrictions: Net assets subject to stipulations imposed by donors, and grantors. Some donor restrictions are temporary in nature; those restrictions will be met by actions of the Museum or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature, whereby the donor has stipulated the funds be maintained in perpetuity.

Donor restricted contributions are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions. When a restriction expires, net assets are reclassified from net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions in the statement of activities.

Cash, Cash Equivalents, and Restricted Cash

The Museum considers cash on hand, in savings, checking, certificates of deposit, and other similar accounts to be cash. All highly liquid debt instruments with a maturity of three months of less when purchased are considered to be cash equivalents.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost is determined using the specific identification basis.

Investments and Fair Value Measurements

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. US GAAP set out a fair value hierarchy. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below:

Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Observable inputs other than prices included in Level 1, such as quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated with observable market data.

Level 3 – Unobservable inputs which reflect management's best estimate of what market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Consideration is given to the risk inherent in the valuation technique and the risk inherent in the inputs to the model.

Financial assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Investments in marketable securities with readily determinable fair values, shares in mutual funds, limited partnerships, and all investments in debt securities are reported at their fair values in the statements of financial position. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in net investment return.

Museum Collections

Museum collections include fine arts and antiques. The collections are made up of artifacts of historical significance and art objects that are held for educational, research, and curatorial purposes.

In conformity with accounting policies generally followed by art museums, the values of the Museum's collections have been excluded from the statement of financial position. Purchases of collection items and proceeds from the sale of collection items are reported on the statements of activities and changes in net assets. The collections are subject to a policy that requires proceeds from their sales to be used to acquire other items for collections.

Gifts of cash or other property restricted by donors for the purchase of items for the collection are classified as net assets with donor restrictions until acquisitions are made in accordance with the terms of the gifts.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Expenditures for major additions and improvements are capitalized, while minor replacements, maintenance, and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. When property and equipment are retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts, and any resulting gain or loss is included in the statement of revenues and expenses for the respective period. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the depreciable assets. The estimated useful life of office equipment is 3 to 10 years and 20 to 30 years for buildings and improvements.

Functional Expenses

Directly identifiable expenses are charged to program services and management and general expenses as incurred. Expenses related to more than one function are charged to program services and management and general expenses on the basis of periodic time and expense studies. Management and general expenses include those expenses that are not directly identifiable with any other specific function but provide for the overall support and direction of the Museum. The costs of providing the various programs and supporting services have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities.

Restricted and Unrestricted Revenue and Support

Support that is restricted by the donor is reported as an increase in net assets without donor restrictions if the restriction expires in the reporting period in which the support is recognized. All other donor-restricted support is reported as an increase in net assets with donor restrictions, depending on the nature of the restriction.

Advertising

Advertising costs are charged to expense when paid. The Museum's advertising costs totaled $11,121 for the year ended May 31, 2023.

Use of Estimates

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Tax Status

The Museum is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Museum's federal exempt Museum tax returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service, generally for three years after they are filed.

Gentlemen:

On the basis of your stated purposes and the understanding that your operations will continue as evidenced to date or will conform to those proposed in your ruling application, we have concluded that you are exempt from Federal income tax as an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Any changes in operation from those described, or in your character or purposes, must be reported immediately to your District Director for consideration of their effect upon your exempt status. Houston Museum Strategic Plan - 6/29/24
Linda Allen and Lynne Forato

Strategic Plan for the Houston Museum of Decorative Arts
FY 2024-2027

About the Museum:
The Houston Museum of Decorative Arts in Chattanooga, Tennessee proudly exhibits one of the most exceptional collections of decorative arts in the country, opening its doors to visitors in 1961. The remarkable collection, rivaling even larger and more renowned museums like the Smithsonian, was lovingly amassed by Anna Safley Houston, a pioneering female entrepreneur, and gifted to the people of Chattanooga. This collection resides within the historic confines of the Bluff View Art District's oldest home.

Inside the Museum, visitors are treated to a portion of the expansive decorative arts and antiques collection, boasting more than 20,000 items hailing from 12 different countries and cultures. From exquisite blown glass pitchers to one-of-a-kind Tennessee-made furniture, Southern folk pottery, rare ceramics, and handmade textiles, the breadth and depth of the collection are astounding. What sets this museum apart is its intimate setting, where personalized tours with a docent replace the typical “behind glass” experience allowing visitors to truly engage with these unique artifacts while learning about Anna’s life journey and the history of our house.

Tailored Houston Museum art activities extend to new audiences in schools, the community, and tourists. Through these different initiatives, visitors of all ages gain a deeper understanding of how these objects reflect our collective culture and history, fostering imagination, creativity, and the expression of ideas.

Dear Grant Review Committee,

I am writing in support of the Houston Museum's request for funding to support its restoration project, including a new classroom and full ADA accessibility improvements.

In my role as Executive Director of the Chattanooga Public Library, and as a member of the Houston Museum Board, I have seen firsthand the museum's impact as a cultural and educational resource for Hamilton County. These improvements will expand access, strengthen educational programming, and ensure the museum can better serve the public.

Thank you for your consideration and for your continued investment in community institutions that preserve local history and create inclusive learning opportunities.

Sincerely,
Will O'Hearn

I am writing to enthusiastically support the work of the Houston Museum and their continued efforts to become more open and accessible to our community.

We at the Hunter have been fortunate to partner with the Houston over the last few years – working with them on our monthly family programs, our leadership programs and on many of our tour and docent programs offering guided experiences for guests of all ages. They've been an incredible resource and partner in all ways for these projects and have always been mindful about the needs for all community members and how they can best support those needs.

It is exciting to look towards the future as the Houston strives to increase their accessibility to our community. As someone who has mobility limitations, I know very personally the important impact elevator and other access enhancements will make for myself and many other guests. And as an educator I am excited to imagine all that they will be able to do with the youth in our community in their new classroom space.

We look forward to continuing to work with the Houston as they build towards accessible spaces for the future and are grateful for Hamilton County's support in this vision.

Sincerely,
